TRADE IN, TRADE UP!

A perfect fade may work for jeans, but there's no such thing when it comes to your color library. Part of what makes Pantone products so special is their ability to communicate color specs with incredible accuracy and consistency. If you see a color in a Pantone product, you can be confident how it will look in your work.

But, sadly, nothing lasts forever – especially not true color reproduction. All papers yellow and dyes fade. To ensure you have the most accurate colors for specification and evaluation, Pantone recommends replacing your guides and books annually.

Then again, with hundreds of new on-trend colors typically added every year, why wouldn't you want the latest, most up-to-date products to inspire you? Don't let outdated color products or color measurement devices limit your creativity or delay your workflow.

Upgrade your Pantone products today and Pantone will say thanks with a check – up to $500 on select Pantone products!
